A separate request must be submitted for each vacancy posted. The posting by the Employer shall state the last date for submitting a transfer request for each job. Employees voluntarily transferring to a new job shall be ineligible to bid again on another job for one (1) year from the date an employee is notified in writing that he/she is awarded a posted position. Non-probationary employees involuntarily transferred to a new job by the District, retain their eligibility to bid on posted job openings.

Upon request by the Union president, the employer will provide to the Union president the names of unit employees bidding for a posted position.

The Employer will first interview the top three (3) most senior candidates.

8.2 - Filling Vacancies - The District will select for interview applicants who meet job qualifications as required by the job description. The person selected to fill the opening shall be selected on the basis of qualifications for the position, prior job performance and other factors related to his/her work record. When all factors being considered are relatively equal, seniority shall be the determining factor. The District shall notify the Union President of all vacant positions upon request. The district shall endeavor to fill open vacancies within the first thirty (30) days.

Applicants interviewed, but not selected, may set up an appointment with the Manager or Assistant Manager of Buildings and Grounds to discuss reasons why they were not selected for the position. When an outside applicant and a current employee are considered to be substantially equal in qualifications as determined by the Employer, preference shall be given to the current employee.

Applicants bidding for a job within their same job classification or category shall be considered for a lateral job transfer and that employee shall not be subject to any testing. However, the applicant may be subject to an oral interview. Employees bidding on a higher classification will not be subject to physical testing.

8.3 - Bidding on Successive Jobs - No eligible employee shall be limited in the number of job vacancies that he/she may bid on. Employees receiving jobs, through the bid system, shall be ineligible to bid again on another job until one (1) year after starting the new job, unless the position for which the employee wishes to bid provides a movement to a higher level category. The one (1) year bid restriction shall begin on the date an employee is notified he/she has been awarded a posted position.

8.4 - Probation on New Job - An employee who has successfully received a job through the posting system will be on probation as to said job for a period of six (6) months from the date of commencement of said job. The six (6) month probationary period shall be specific as to the new job only, and shall not be considered a general probationary period for said employee. If during the six (6) month probationary period the employee is incapable of successfully performing the job, the Employer shall meet with the employee and, if the employee requests, a Union representative to discuss the situation. The employee may then transfer to any job not successfully filled through the bidding procedure and currently open for which he/she is qualified. If no position is open at the time of his/her disqualification, the position he/she was disqualified from shall be posted for bid and he/she shall be allowed to fill any subsequent vacancy that opens up as a result of the bidding and job award for which he/she is qualified. If an employee changes jobs in the same job classification there shall be no probationary period.

8.5 - Involuntary Transfers - Movement of an employee to another building for the efficient operation of the District, movement caused because of the closing of facility, or elimination of a job, or a change of job or staff-reduction, and not based upon the request of the employee, is an involuntary transfer. Employee whose position has been eliminated due to the elimination or change of job or staff reduction will have the right to bump the least senior person within the same classification or accept the transfer. If there is no employee within the classification that the employee can bump, the affected employee can bump the least senior employee within the next lower category. The least senior employee being displaced within their category shall have the choice of bumping the least senior employee in the next lower category if they have more seniority or accept the transfer. The least senior employee would then be involuntarily transferred.

In cases where an employee in category 10 must be transferred from a building and there are more than one category 10 within that building, the employer will ask for a volunteer to transfer first before moving the least senior employee.

Seniority is based on the employee's entire length of service with the District.
