Sageville Elementary Newsletter

April 5, 2018

From the desk of Miss Mac:

Let's take a break from the dreary weather, shall we? Sageville is going to shake the winter blues by celebrating reading next week before our April reading assessments. See all of the details under the calendar of events!

April marks the time for district assessments in the area of reading and math. Students will be taking MAP tests in grades 2-5 during the week of April 16th. Students in grades K-5 will take the FAST reading assessment on April 25th or 26th. These results will be sent home to you in Thursday folders.

The week of April 15th marks the Week of the Young Child! Our Preschool and Kindergarten teachers are planning some fun events that week!

Students in our Green Club will be doing a waste audit from our lunchroom next week. We look forward to seeing the results and look for ways that we can reduce waste at our school.

Friday Focus:

- Teachers will be developing a plan based on a student's running record and the errors they make.

Counselor Corner...Mrs. Kaiser

During the week of April 2nd – 6th I have been with kindergarten thru second grade. For the whole month of April, our focus is on Careers. In kindergarten, each student completes the worksheet, My Favorite and Least Favorite Jobs at School and at Home. In first grade, students discussed their strengths and interests and how their interests could be a future career. In second grade, students discussed the difference between an activity and an interest. Second grade students were also introduced to the six career pathways (business, creative, nature, fixing & building and technology, helping and health). Next week I will be working with 3rd – 5th grade.

Tips for Parents: Share with your children your expectations at work and what subject areas in elementary school that you utilize every day while at work.
